FFA, with the reserve champion FFA steer; and Louise Speer, Pixley 4-H, with the 4-H reserve champion steer. Third row: Mary Jo Eaton, Westfield 4-H, with her 4-H reserve champion fat lamb; and Paul Canales, Porterville Future Farmer, with his FFA champion Suffolk ram. Bottom row: Dale Crammore, Porterville Future Farmer, with his FFA champion Jersey cow and Jersey bull. The champion steer, with a sale weight of 1,023 pounds, was purchased by Guarantee Savings and Loan association of Tulare, for $1.00

WANTED — HOG CALLERS FOR CONTEST

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1 — The ancient and honorable art of hog calling will be returned to a place of well-deserved prominence at the 4-H Clubs Chuckwagon breakfast the morning of October 10, and all practitioners of the art or those who would like to become practitioners, are invited to compete.

General chairman of the breakfast, Calvin Weisenberger, after due consideration, has opened the competition to any Tulare county resident, professional or amateur.

In charge will be Bob Wolfram, of Terra Bella, who promises to have some of his top Durocs on hand to test the abilities of the competing hog callers — blue-ribbon Durocs that will never (Continued On Page 10)

Appaloosa Cutting Horse Demonstration Set

SPRINGVILLE, Oct. 1 — Added feature for the annual junior horse show that will be sponsored by the Springville Lions' club on October 11 will be a cutting horse demonstration staged during the lunch break.

The famous Appaloosa cutting horse, Cojo Espada, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Dilts, of Milo, will be put through his paces by John Dilts. The seven-year-old, permanent registered horse stands fifth among the top 20 novice horses in the Pacific Coast Cutting Horse association, and has a good chance of becoming the first Appaloosa to move into the top 10 horses in the National Cutting Horse association.

Circus

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1 — Big John Strong brings his circus — tent and all — to the Roche avenue school grounds next Tuesday for afternoon and evening performances under auspices of the Roche Avenue PTA.

Afternoon show goes on at 3:30 o'clock; the evening show at 7:30 o'clock, with 10 acts featured. General chairman for the PTA is Chester Slusser; adult admission is $1.00, with children, 50 cents.

Designed primarily to please the kiddies, the Big John A. Strong circus will present Big John himself, and his family, in their dog and pony acts; Miss Jan, famous (Continued On Page 10)

WE NEED MORE OF THIS

Plan of action to clean up, brighten up and sharpen up the city of Porterville is the goal of a committee that will be formed when representatives of various organizations within the community, as well as other individuals, gather at the city hall next Thursday evening.

Not waiting for the committee was Ed Flory, shown above, who just couldn't stand his neighbor's lot any longer, so set about cleaning it up.

And there was work aplenty to do, yet none of it created by Ed himself, nor the people in the building at Mill and Third where his office is located.

The lot adjacent to the business property is not developed; it had been allowed to grow up in weeds; trash from a nearby sandwich stand blows into the area; old trees are half-dead and unpruned. All of this totals out to an unsightly mess that is certainly no credit to the property owner nor to the city generally.

There are other, similar areas throughout the city — areas that need attention. One objective of the clean-up committee, we hope, will be to encourage property owners to get the trash off vacant lots — and keep it off.

There are other fields in which the committee may see fit to work — sharpening up of city-owned property and equipment; a touch of paint, where needed, in business and residential districts; the planting of colorful flowers, trees and shrubs in residential areas, and also in business districts where practical; the repair, by property owners, of broken up curbs and sidewalks, and the improvement of parkways between curbs and sidewalks.

Steps toward brightening up the business district were taken this week by the placing of boxed shrubs along the Leta Word and Sierra Press sidewalks; Ben Cole has placed a couple of large, potted trees in front of his Main street store. It would be real nice if other business men would pick up the idea.

Actually, there are areas in which the city of Porterville is going to seed. Take a critical look around and you'll see for yourself. In fact, take a critical look at your own property, at your home, at your business buildings, and what you see may surprise you, unfavorably. In which case, we hope you do something about it.

At any rate there are a number of comparatively little things that can be done to sharpen up Porterville — little things that when taken in total will add up to a more attractive community.

We hope that at the committee meeting next Thursday a plan of action is forthcoming.

And, incidentally, if you are interested in working, come on down to the city hall at 7:30 p.m. Just volunteer, and you will be quickly and automatically a member of the committee.

By CLEM WHITAKER, JR.

"If any state in the union can afford to pay its own way, it is California."

These were the words recently of California Congressman Don H. Clausen, a major spokesman for the cause of overhauling the federal tax structure. Clausen, who represents the state's sprawling First District on the North Coast, was elected largely on a campaign pledge to work for the return of tax sources now preempted by the federal government to local units of government for local purposes.

"For every dollar California taxpayers pay to the federal government, they get back 79 cents in services," the Crescent City Republican declared. "It is obvious to anyone that those dollars will buy a lot more in services if they are left here in the first place."

Carrying his fight to the people, Clausen has authored a resolution calling for allocation of specific tax sources to local government and has broadsided it to every public body and civic organization in his district, asking their support of the reform principle. He has also contacted each of his 434 colleagues in the House of Representatives asking their backing and urging them to pass the resolution on to the people of their own districts.

Clausen argues, for example, that education is primarily supported by "one of the most limited tax bases available to government," the property tax. Instead of turning now to the federal government for financial help as school needs grow, local districts would be benefitted more if federal tax sources were released to the local entities.

"It is my firm conviction that the solution to our school problems—and to many of our other problems—is to permit home rule to prevail," Clausen argued.

"We must remove tax sources from the federal government and return them to the states. The states, in turn, must overhaul their tax structures or revise revenue allocations to provide a broader tax base at the local government and school board level. These new funds could be used as a new source of revenue or relief to the ad valorem taxpayer."

To accomplish his program, Clausen pledged to work toward channelling what he termed the "great taxpayer revolt" building in the nation toward a positive program of tax overhaul—"hopefully at all levels of government."

NEW BOOKS AT PORTERVILLE CITY LIBRARY

LAFCADIO, THE LION WHO SHOT BACK by Shel Silverstein is an engaging story. When the other lions roused themselves and padded off at a trot, one lion asked "why". "Hunters" was the reply. He stayed, because he liked the sound of the word. Lafcadio's subsequent encounters with hunters leads to his auspicious debut into the human world of elevators, barbershops and cigars. Artful, Thurber-like sketches by the author on nearly every page form a bit of high level nonsense.

JOCK in JOCK'S ISLAND by Elizabeth Coatsworth was a border collie well trained for his work of caring for a flock of sheep. His volcanic island is evacuated when eruption threatens, and the remaining island population consists only of abandoned animals. Jock keeps right on working in the face of grim circumstances and an idiot flock to care for. A young man finds and befriends the magnificent dog and for the first time Jock encounters the power of love. There is excellent detail and powerful story telling in simple, beautifully balanced sentences in this book. Jock's story should take its place among the great dog stories.

This coming weekend you should forget all else and see the fall colors arriving in the mountain country. The dogwood, the oak, and the aspen should be at their best and the cool fall air will do wonders for you too. It's a short drive whether you visit Sequoia, Mountain Home, or Quaking Aspen and you'll find both the roads and picnic areas improving each year.

Between times you can plant similar trees and shrubs for your own enjoyment. Although you'll never equal the mass planting of the Sierra, you can provide yourself with a small corner of it. You will enjoy the colors of Liquidambar, Pistachio, Ginkgo, Ash, Crepe Myrtle, and similar trees even if you hate raking leaves.

There are also shrubs of brilliant color, many of which keep their leaves all winter. They are Nandina, Photinia, Temstroemia, Oregon Grape, and probably others we can't think of but will find real fast if you wave a little money around.

The same is true of bulbs and bedding plants of which we have many delectable varieties. Whether you're a gardener or a slug, you'll appreciate these for the quick color they bring to your yard. They are ideal for the novice gardener with little money to spend and we will help you choose the right one for the right spot.

JOB AVAILABLE IN OLIVE, COTTON HARVESTS; AGRICULTURAL EMPLOYMENT REMAINS HIGH IN VALLEY COUNTIES

FRESNO, Oct. 1 — The five county Southern San Joaquin valley agricultural labor situation is reported by Farm Labor Service offices to be still higher in employment than last year, with 89,500 hired workers employed this week against 80,500 the same week last year.

This week's employment is less than last week which was 95,600 and which shows the usual seasonal decline. This decline is attributed to the grapes and tree fruit harvests which are past peak and are on the tail end of their season. Most offices have a need for turners, rollers, and boxers of raisin grapes.

Madera county can place about 150 workers in raisin boxing. Fresno county can use a steady flow of workers in all three of the

Dr. Robert Morris was Chief Counsel for the U.S. Senate Internal Subcommittee. This is of particular interest now because this is the committee that has been marked for destruction by the Americans for Democratic Action, to which Hubert H. Humphrey is completely and hopelessly tied. The ADA should and will become a big issue in the campaign, for its extremist positions, and Dr. Morris is an authority in this area.

BACK IN the 1920's Porterville had two Greek Letter fraternities - Phi Chi, the members shown above, and Beta Phi Sigma. (We printed a picture of the latter group a year or so ago) Although the fraternities were considered illegal on the high school campus, membership was primarily of high school students, plus young business men and ranchers around the community, and some college students. As one of the by-products of the "roaring 20's", high school fraternities flourished in California - and other states - but began to decline and die out in the 1930's. The above photo of Nu Chapter, Phi Chi fraternity, was taken by Bill Hammond in Murry park, probably in 1926. Max Conner had his brother, Rex, send it to us from San Jose. COLLEGE ENROLLMENT UP 18 PER CENT

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1 — Overall enrollment at Porterville college showed an increase of nearly 18%. Director O. H. Shires has announced, establishing new records for both day and evening divisions.

Day division enrollment, consisting mostly of full-time students, increased from 520 to 538, a gain of 3 1/2%, Shires noted.

However, the enrollment in the evening division, was boosted from 234 last fall to 350 this year, an increase of nearly 50%. R. R. Reising, dean of the evening division, said the figure does not include students who are in an adult school program.

The sharp increases in both the day and evening divisions, which have boosted total enrollment from 754 during the last fall semester to 888 for the current semester, caused many classes to be closed to enrollment early, with the result that late registering students often could not secure courses they desired. The heavy enrollments were felt in all departments of instruction, Shires noted, indicating that the students are carrying heavier course loads than before.

Shires said enrollments in most of California's 72 public junior colleges have increased significantly this fall, with about 250,000 students attending.

Honeydew melon shipments were heavy during early September from the west side of the San Joaquin valley.

DAIRY COUNCIL NOMINATION MEETING TO BE HELD IN TULARE ON OCTOBER 6

TULARE, Oct. 1 — A public meeting—one in a series throughout California — will be held at the Tulare Memorial building in Tulare on October 6 for the purpose of receiving nominations of milk producers, milk producer-handlers, and milk handlers for appointment to membership on the Dairy Council of California.

The meeting has been called by Charles Paul, director of the California department of agriculture, for 1:30 p.m. Eight appointments will be made by the director of agriculture to fill eight vacancies created by expiration of terms on the 25-member council.

Paul pointed out that the Dairy Council of California was established by the state legislature at the request of the dairy industry in 1945. The functions of the Council are to encourage the greater use of milk and dairy products throughout the state. The Council provides health educational materials to the schools of California and carries on advertising, research, and public relations programs.

The activities of the Council are financed through assessments paid by milk producers, producer-handlers and handlers of dairy products on a basis of one-half cent per pound of milk fat computed on all milk fat produced commercially or processed in May and October of each year, and three mills per pound of milk on all Class I milk sales during the other 10 months of the year.

There will be members of the staff of the Dairy Council at each of the meetings to present an up-to-date report of the Council's progress in implementing the expanded program of education, research, and public relations that was started in early 1964.

The expanded program, approved by dairy industry referendum, includes: the production of permanent displays for use at public and professional gatherings, the establishment of localized information centers, greater liaison between the Council and members of the medical and educational professions, the production of several motion pictures, a state-wide measurement of consumer attitudes toward dairy products, the sponsoring of the California Joint Study of Student Health Problems, as well as other activities designed to stimulate greater use of dairy foods by all the citizens of California.

KIWANIS KAPERS TO AGAIN FEATURE TOP PROFESSIONAL ACTS IN STAGE SHOW SET FOR EVENING OF OCTOBER 29

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1 — Porterville Kiwanians will again bring top professional talent to their annual Kiwanis Kapers, that will be staged in the Memorial auditorium the evening of October 29; curtain time is 8:10 p.m.

Headliners will be the Lennon Sisters, singing group with the Lawrence Welk show; master-of-ceremonies will be one of the nation's best comedians — George Riley. From Europe will come the novelty act, Margib and Helmore; two distinctively styled musical acts have been booked, the Nelson Family and the Marimbos. Senor Frakson will amaze and mystify with his sleight-of-hand act that has played throughout the world.

Reserve seat tickets for the Kapers are available at the Joanides real estate office, Putnam and Hockett, for $3.50; general admission tickets are $2.50; balcony seats, $1.50.

The annual Kapers is staged by the Porterville Kiwanis club as a benefit for the organization's youth program. General chairman for the 1964 Kapers is Bill Joos.

JOBS AVAILABLE

activities. Tulare county can use boxers. Kern and Madera counties show need for table and wine grape pickers and should have work for the full month of October.

Tulare and Kings counties are starting the harvest of olives this week with Fresno county starting next week. Jobs will be available in Tulare and Kings counties by Monday. Kings county anticipates a shortage of workers will exist by mid-week.

In the five-county area there are 515,400 acres of cotton which will need a labor force of 15,450 workers and 12,000 acres of olives needing a labor force of 4,900 workers; therefore, jobs will be available in all counties for all qualified workers in both olives and cotton harvests during the month of October. Cotton is found in all five counties and olives primarily in Madera, Tulare and Kings counties.

TELEPHONE MAN TO FIRE AREA

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1 — Bob Henderson, local lineman for Pacific Telephone has been on emergency loan to the Napa district to help restore telephone service that was disrupted by the disastrous fire in the area last week. Henderson left last week with his truck and tools and is not expected back for at least two weeks.

Our Town

By RUTH LOYD

Emma Nuckols just stood there with her mouth open. There were about 50 celebrants sitting around the pool velling, "surprise". Margaret and Bob Bennett, and Pauline and Ralph Mehrten were supposed to take Bob and Emma to the Bunyan and keep them there until the party could be set up. Of course things got a little mixed up, and everyone arrived at the wrong time, which didn't matter. This was Emma's second surprise party. The first one was when she was sweet sixteen.

It was a house warming and had been dreamed up by Margaret Bennett, Betty Kaylor and Eva Cline. Everyone was supposed to meet at Kaylor's, get the keys to the Nuckols' house from Bob, Jr. and be out around the pool when Bob and Emma arrived. The new furniture for the patio was in full view and everything went nicely except the recipients didn't arrive when they were supposed to. The party was going strong by the time Bob Bennett got the Nuckols away from the Bunyan. But the surprise was complete. A good time was had by all. It's so nice to have a surprise party when it is really a surprise.

Mary Richardson was telling about one of her boys when he was in school a few years ago. Mary received an urgent note from the teacher to please come for a conference. Mary rushed over at the appointed time and the teacher solemnly handed her a drawing. Mary looked at it. It was a large piece of paper almost covered with brown crayon. At the bottom was a band of green color. The teacher quietly told Mary that the children had been asked to draw a picture showing what they had been doing on Mother's Day. All the Psych. classes the teacher had taken assured her that Mary's child was on the way to being a case for the head shrinker. The teacher's face fell when Mary told her that that was exactly what the boy had been doing on Mother's Day. He had spent the day out in the grove helping his father spread manure under the trees.

The new museum is going to be so nice. Al Hilton seems to be doing a great deal of it himself. I am convinced he can do anything. Plumbing, painting, patching, pounding and digging. The main waiting room is great. They are leaving the nice beamed ceiling and old photographs just as they were. The outside is a blue grey and John Daybell has put in palms around the fence. There is an awful lot of work to do. I'm glad OUR TOWN has an Al Hilton.

190 Highway Widening Project Is Recommended

VISALIA, Oct. 1 — Widening and improving of eight miles of 190 highway between the River Island golf course and a point one mile above the Edison company plant east of Springville has been recommended by the highway committee of the Tulare county chamber of commerce.

As another highway improvement included among six recommendations, the chamber has asked for a flashing red light signal at Cairns corner, west of Lindsay.

Smaller Navel Crop Estimated

LINDSAY, Oct. 1 — A Navel orange crop between 15 and 20 per cent lower than last year, with somewhat smaller sizes, is estimated by George W. Cole, Jr., manager of the Navel Orange Administrative committee. Last year's crop totalled 18,431 cars.

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we deemed necessary in the circumstances except that we were not present when the inventory was taken; however, we satisfied ourselves by means of other auditing procedures.

In our opinion, the accompanying balance sheet and related statements of operations present fairly the financial position of the Sierra View Local Hospital District at June 30, 1964, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted governmental accounting procedures applied on a basis consistent with the prior year.

VOLLMER, CANFIELD & WESTENRIDER

CHapel
CHIMES

By Rev. N. J.
Thompson

As the accused man felt the lynching party's rope about his neck, he pleaded, "Let me loose — please! I didn't steal that bay mare. I can prove it — if you'll just give me a chance."

"A man that steals horses must expect to get his neck stretched," cried the leader of the execution party. "String him up men!"

Their mission accomplished, the executioners rode away, with smiles of grim satisfaction on their sunbrowned faces. Their smiles quickly faded, however. The dead man was found to be innocent. But the man was dead, and all the apologies in the world could never right the wrong and bring him back to life.

Lynch mobs went out of style. But men are still being hanged by mistake — by means of cruel gossip!

Have you noticed how easy it is to repeat things you've heard about someone, specially someone you dislike? More than one honorable name has been dragged in the gutter by slanderous or foolish talk. The motto of a fraternal organization is: "If I cannot speak well of a member, I will not speak ill of him." This is a good rule for all of us. Cheap gabbling that bemeans someone, tattling that repeats remarks that may or may not be wholly true, do not harmonize with the Biblical commandment: "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

The Bible warns, "We put bits in horses' mouths to turn their whole bodies. So too great ships can be steered with a small rudder. Likewise, the tongue is an insignificant part of the body, but it is immensely boastful. The tongue is a fire, and can defile the whole body," St. James, chapter 3.

Bobby Lum is so homesick. He was eating some dried fruit his mother had sent him from Honolulu. He is cold too. OUR TOWN climate isn't Hawaiian climate. Nine boys are here from the Islands going to college, and most of them are homesick. Bobby was trying to con anyone into letting him use their kitchen for awhile, so he could cook up some familiar food for himself and his friends. Mashed potatoes don't seem to appeal to this Chinese boy. He dreams of Sukiyaki. All he wants is a place to cook it. The dorms at the college don't come equipped with habachis. If any of OUR TOWN were in the Islands lately, and want to return some of the wonderful hospitality, this is a perfect chance. Peter Burns, Mervin Chang, William Davis, Michael Kusune, Calvin Lee, Robert Lum and Ronald Pires are all from Honolulu. Robert Pahia is from Kailua. Michael Ellis is from Lihue. Burnett Akiu is from Wailuku, Maui.

Some of the boys are looking for jobs. I asked Bobby Lum what kind of jobs they wanted. He threw up his hands and said, "anything". Wash dishes, yard work, anything. When the need arises Bobby slips into Pidgen English and the results are fantastic. Some of the boys brought grass skirts, musical instruments and a repertoire of Island songs. Soooo if you are giving a party and want some entertainment and give some "homesick Island boy" a touch of home away from home, call the dorms at the college and ask for Bobby Lum. Don't blame me. Bobby is a character. You're on your own.

Barney Richardson is a one-man fan club of OUR TOWN's fire department. When the fire started at the Richardson home and the alarm was sent in, it took about three minutes for Chester Slusser to arrive and maneuver his big truck down the narrow driveway and get going. Barney said he didn't know Chester could move so fast and so efficiently. The whole crew worked as a perfect team. Each man knew his job and was an expert. Barney couldn't find words to express his admiration for the way the men handled the fire. He was very impressed. How lucky for OUR TOWN to have such a fire department.

Boyd Eckard thinks peanut butter and onion sandwiches are great.

twitch an ear for anything less than champion-calibre hog calling.

There will be other entertainment at the breakfast, including 4-H talent contest winners, and a pancake race, with defending champions Loretta Scranton and Richard Owen doing what champions are supposed to do — defending their championships.

Serving will start at 6 a.m. on the Smith Market parking lot, and continue until 10 a.m. Menu will include orange juice, hot cakes, sausage and eggs, coffee and milk, served by 4-H leaders and club members.

Most of the food served is donated by various suppliers; funds raised through the sale of tickets by members of participating 4-H clubs in southern Tulare county is used for community and club activity programs.

Members of 4-H clubs have tickets on sale now; or tickets can be purchased in the breakfast line. Some 3,000 persons are expected to be served.

"OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE" IS THEME OF NOVEMBER 11 HOMECOMING PARADE

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1 — "Our American Heritage" was selected as theme for the 1964 Homecoming parade that will be a feature of Veterans' Homecoming on November 11.

Submitting the theme idea was Mrs. Mary Delk, of 893 N. Kessing, who received a veteran committee prize of $10.00.

In other business of the Monday night meeting of the celebration's general committee, Mrs. Jack Kennedy resigned as parade secretary and Mrs. Orville Lofton was named on into the afternoon, with horse show and gymkhana classes open to junior riders from eight to 18 years.

There is no admission charge for the show and no entry fee is charged. All entries must be in by midnight, October 4; post entries will not be accepted.

Now in its 12th year, the junior horse show is staged annually by the Springville Lions club as part of its youth and community program.

Circus

aerialist, will perform at the top of the tent; the acrobatic Orwyns will entertain, and clowns galore will be on hand.

Special performances will be given by Neena, the baby elephant; by a Llama from Peru, and by pygmy goats from Africa. And there will be a side show with live monsters and animal exhibits.

The circus was booked as a fund-raising event for the Roche Avenue PTA. It will play the Porterville State hospital for benefit of patients there on Monday, October 5.

ed to fill the position; a contract was signed with the Valley Amusement company for the celebration carnival; Arthur Van Horn, from the Porterville college faculty, introduced the Homecoming Queen Contest chairman, Judy Spivey, and the Coronation chairman, Jerri Rouch.

Woodville Teachers Honored At Dinner

WOODVILLE, Oct. 1 — Teachers at Woodville and Vincent schools were honored Monday evening at a steak barbecue given by the Woodville chamber of commerce at the civic center building. Albert Grimsley, chairman of the school board and president of the chamber, presided; Douglas D. Johnston, district superintendent, introduced personnel, with teachers giving background information on themselves. More than 100 persons attended the event.
